

Word of God

The Bible's writers claimed that it was inspired of God.

The Bible very often does not cast the Jewish people, who wrote it, in the best light but records things in it about them that they would not have included had it been written merely by man.

The history of the Jewish people in general verify that they are not an ordinary people but rather objects of uniquely significant divine attention and affection as well as Satanic attack.

The Bible in its quality of content – conceptually, is vastly beyond any other book that has ever been written.

The Bible in its consistency with itself, even though it was written over a 1500 year period by over 40 different authors, many of whom did not have access to what the other was writing.

The Bible in its every day applicability to every day life far surpasses that of any other book.

The Bible in its prophetic element has proven to be completely accurate.

The Bible in its prescience shows that men wrote of things in the every day physical world they could not have known through ordinary means.

The existence of a personal moral and all-powerful creator is self-evident by creation itself and the Bible is the only book with a rational record of the origin of the universe by such a creator.

The effect the Bible has had through the centuries on people, societies and nations when rightly understood and applied verifies empirically its divine origin.

The effect that rejecting the truths of the Bible has had upon people society and nations, verifies experientially its divine origin.

God's Spirit bears witness with my spirit by way of enlightening my understanding of the Bible and enabling my application of it in my life.
